When another message was received from the senate, by their clerk, which was also delivered in at the speaker's deak. Mr. Semmes, (by a special leave of the house obtained for the purpose,) then submitted a motion, that the further consideration of the subject matter immediately before the house be suspended for the purpose of taking up and con sidering so much of the messages received from to-day, as may relate to the bill heretofore passed by this house and sent to the senate for their concurrence, entitled An act for the general valuation and assessment of property in this state.

And the question thereon, being taken, was resolved in the affirmative. The Speaker then handed to the assistant clerk, the bil of this house, returned by the second message from the se-nate, entitled, An act for the general valuation and assess-ment of property in this state, endorsed 'will not pass;' accompanied by a communication, in relation thereto which was read, and is as follows: By the Senate, March 11, 1829. Gentlemen of the House of Delegates,

After considering the bill, entitled, An act for the gene al valuation and assessment of property in this state, and he amendments thereto, reported by the joint committee we have rejected the same, and return it to your honour

We are of opinion, that the good faith of the state should pe preserved, and an adequate revenue provided to meet ill demands against the state, but the senate do not consider it right and proper at this time to adopt an entire ne system of assessment, and therefore are prepared, with our concurrence, to adopt a system of revenue, similar ts provisions to that adopted by the act of 1821, chapter 192, entitled. An act to provide a revenue for the suppor of the government of this state, not exceeding forty sand dollars annually; and also, that a bill shall pass laying an additional duty of five dollars on all licenses granted to dealers in foreign goods, wares and merchandise.

L. Gassaway, Clk. By order, Mr. Grason then submitted the following message, in re

By the House of Delegates, March 11, 1829. Sentlemen of the Senate.

We have received your message informing us of the reection of the general assessment bill, and proposing as a ubstitute fer the same, the imposition of a direct tax on the counties of this state, according to the basis established

n the year 1821. Since that period, the relative wealth of the different counties has materially changed, and the system which might have been equal in its operation, when first introducwould be unjust and oppressive at the present time But that system is liable to an objection, existing at all times, inasmuch as it imposes the chief burden of taxation non the agricultural interests; whereas, according to our Bill of Rights, and the obvious principles of justice, every nan ought to contribute to the support of government, in proportion to what he is actually worth, in real and perso

These being our impressions, we cannot consent to revive that system, or to introduce any other which is liable to similar objections.

Mr. M'Alahon of Baltimore city, proposed to amend the same, by adding at the end thereof, the following:

'At the same time we profess our entire willingness to assent to any modification of the bill, which will not conflic with the general principle embodied in it; that every man should contribute according to his actual worth in real or personal preperty,' nor is our adherence to the bill to be considered as a final Aherence to all of its details. We are desirous to know whether the objectionable novelty of the hill, which we have sent to you consists in the principle of may be ready for his signature; and in the progress of the taxation above mentioned. If it be not, we may yet hope second reading thereof, taxation above mentioned. If it be not, we may yet hope to redeem ourselves from the disgrace consequent upon leaving the states without the means of subsistence, by a course of compromise and mutual concession.

Mr. Ely then moved that the further consideration of said means of subsistence, by a course of compromise and mutual concession.

And the question thereon being taken, was resolved in the affirmative.

This motion was negatived. The question was then taken on the adoption of the amendment proposed by mr. M'Mahon of Baltimore city, and resolved in the affirmative.

The question on the adoption of the said message, as amended, was then stated;

And debate arising thereon,
Mr. Smith of Worcester, called for the previous question; which was also demanded by a majority of the members present, as required by the 23d rule of the house, but before the said previous question was put,
